

Activity 02: Mission and Change Roleplay

Leadership Masterclass · C904 · v4.0 · Fictional practice material

Goal

In this activity, you will select a style and create shared purpose using a fictional Meridian Services situation. You will discuss different perspectives, practise a leadership response and produce a reusable work artifact. The exercise connects the topic concepts to an everyday team decision, and the debrief focuses on how your response affects other people.

What you will build

A completed mission and change roleplay worksheet, a peer observation checklist and a practical next action.

Fictional scenario

Meridian Services is introducing a new handover process. Senior specialists fear losing autonomy; a new colleague needs clear instructions. The customer expects fewer incomplete cases.

Preparation

Read the scenario. Open worksheet.docx or print worksheet.pdf. Work in pairs or triads. Use sample-completed-worksheet.pdf after making your own first attempt.

Step 1

Identify what is changing and what each role fears losing.

Step 2

Draft a mission statement that describes a shared outcome in one sentence.

Step 3

Choose directive, participative, coaching or delegating behaviour for each role and justify the choice.

Step 4

Run a five-minute meeting with a leader, a sceptical specialist and a new colleague.

Step 5

Agree a limited experiment, an owner and a review date; debrief what improved commitment.

Test it

Check each item in checklist.md, then ask a peer to identify one clear strength and one concrete improvement. Confirm that your proposed action has an owner and a review point.

Debrief

What evidence changed your view? Which trade-off remains? Which behaviour will you practise next?
