

Activity 10: Interest-Based Negotiation

Leadership Masterclass · C904 · v4.0 · Fictional practice material

Goal

In this activity, you will create options and evaluate a fair agreement using a fictional Meridian Services situation. You will discuss different perspectives, practise a leadership response and produce a reusable work artifact. The exercise connects the topic concepts to an everyday team decision, and the debrief focuses on how your response affects other people.

What you will build

A completed interest-based negotiation worksheet, a peer observation checklist and a practical next action.

Fictional scenario

Sales wants a Friday launch; delivery requests two weeks. The customer needs one feature Friday, not the full rollout. Delivery can safely pilot that feature with ten users.

Preparation

Read the scenario. Open worksheet.docx or print worksheet.pdf. Work in pairs or triads. Use sample-completed-worksheet.pdf after making your own first attempt.

Step 1

Record each party's position and ask why it matters.

Step 2

Identify at least two shared interests and one unresolved constraint.

Step 3

Generate three options before selecting one; include a limited pilot.

Step 4

Compare options against agreed criteria and define each party's realistic fallback.

Step 5

Draft an agreement with scope, owners, dates and what happens if the pilot is not ready.

Test it

Check each item in checklist.md, then ask a peer to identify one clear strength and one concrete improvement. Confirm that your proposed action has an owner and a review point.

Debrief

What evidence changed your view? Which trade-off remains? Which behaviour will you practise next?
